INSECTOLOGY.

Of work the bee is not afraid.
And hard times can't expel it.
For when it gets its honey made,
It knows just where to sell it.
—Cincinnati Enquirer.

Then take the case of Mr. Fly.
Pursued with noise and clatter.
When he observes one's hand on high
He knows just what's at the matter.
—Denver Republican.

Consider, too, the little gnat.
He's fortunate in that he,
While 'er the styles are thin or fat—
Can manage to look gnatty.
—Chicago Inter Ocean.

And then we know there is the ant.
Who works to beat the band,
And really does a pile of work
Because it's got the sand.
—Yonkers Statesman.

We often feel the little flea
But seek for him in vain.
He travels as he gets his food
And flees and flees again.

Local Mention.

We now have an automobile bus in service here.

Hear Stanley at the court house 1.30 this afternoon.

J. K. Long, Jr., is up from an attack of malarial fever.

We are beginning to wonder if we are to have a circus this year.

World's best music, perfectly produced, at court house tonight.

Messrs. T. E. Sumner and W. E. Jenkins are in Dawson on business.

Mr. Marvin Wells is here from Louisville, spending his vacation at home.

Mr. C. S. Curd will begin the construction of his concrete silo in a few days.

Next Monday is county court day, and it is likely there will be a large crowd here.

People from far and near will gather at the court house tonight to hear the N. Y. Marine Band.

Mrs. J. M. Mullen and daughter, Miss Annie, of Birmingham, Ala., are guests of Mr. J. H. Hayes and family.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cox, of Madisonville, were here the first of the week on a visit to relatives and friends.

Hon. R. Y. Thomas will speak here next Monday, and will be greeted by a large crowd of his county friends.

Mr. W. A. Young has been confined to his home several days, suffering from fever, but his condition is reported as improved.

Mr. Birney Shutt is confined to his home, suffering from typhoid fever, but is getting along easily, so far, and is hoped will quickly recover.

Miss Lelia DeWitt left Tuesday for Los Angeles, Cal., where she goes to join her brother, Mr. Clair DeWitt, who has an important position with one of the leading hotels there.

Don't miss the greatest treat you have ever had opportunity to enjoy here—go to the band concert tonight.

Interest in Poultry.

H. W. Rickey, State Agent in poultry work, visited the Boys' and Girls' Poultry Clubs in the county and found the Gishton and Central Point clubs in a very flourishing condition. Considerable interest is being aroused in regard to the raising of pure bred poultry in these sections. The construction of new poultry houses along modern lines is being contemplated by a number of our progressive farmers.

LoZito is regarded as one of the most impressive and pleasing musical directors in America, and as conductor of the N. Y. City Marine Band has delighted hundreds of thousands of persons. See him and hear his wonderful band at the court house tonight.

Mr. W. F. Tilford and wife motored here Tuesday, coming through from Murphysboro, Ill., and visited friends. They were accompanied by Miss Florence Lynn.

Burned By Steam at Luzerne.

Mr. Claude Adkins, of this city, fireman of the W. G. Duncan Coal Co. at Luzerne, was severely burned by steam in the power house there last Saturday. His condition is much improved, and he will soon be entirely recovered, it is thought.

Mr. Higbestolvin is getting some severe jolts these days, as the rain has hammered prices down considerably on fruits and vegetables. The market is much better supplied, too, now.

Commissioner of Agriculture Newman has suggested that the farmers of Kentucky make haste to repair the shortage in the hay crop by sowing some seasonable catch crop as cow peas, sorghum or millet.

Auto Bus In Service.

W. A. Young has added an automobile bus to his livery equipment, and is operating it in the transfer of passengers to and from the depot, meeting all trains. In addition to this the vehicle is open for engagements at night and between trains. Mr. Marcelus Wynn is operating the car. This is the first vehicle of the kind ever in the county, and is attracting much attention.

The court house won't begin to hold the crowd that will hear the Marine Band tonight. Of course those who are fortunate enough to get in the building will more fully enjoy the concert, for they will be charmed with the director, LoZito, and the artists of his band. But the music will be enjoyed by those who cannot get the full show.

Every transfer of property shows the increasing values of Greenville. Nothing swift and varying, but a steady, sure growth.

The best rain we have had in three months fell last Thursday night, when about an inch and a half precipitation was recorded. It was followed by cloudy and cooler weather, this adding to the efficiency of the shower. The benefit has been vast, all sorts of vegetation was helped, but what we need is a two-day rain.

If you haven't already done so, hurry to Countler's or Hale's and get your tickets for the band concert tonight. Advance sales have been extremely heavy, and the house will be packed.

Misses Lillian Tichenor and Bertha Toll, of McHenry, are the guests of Miss Agnes Simpson.

Mr. W. G. Crawford, who is in the I. C. hospital at Paducah, is making favorable headway with his attack of typhoid fever, and unless complications arise, will soon be able to return home.

Summer furniture at Roark's.

Marine Band Concert Tonight.

The people of the city and county will to night have opportunity to hear the best band organization that has been here. The New York City Marine Band has been in the South for the past two months, giving performances at the largest cities in Chautauqua courses. This is the first time the band has been in the South, though in the North and East for many years have made numerous tours, and in New York City ranks as one of the leading musical organizations. M. LoZito, the conductor, has spent many years in building up and perfecting this band, which for a quarter of a century has enjoyed an enviable position. The band is returning home by easy stages, and impressed with the royal receptions everywhere given is lingering in the South to give a few independent concerts. Ten business men of Greenville put up the necessary guarantee, and secured a contract for the appearance of the band here tonight. It is hoped the public will lend full aid to the project, and from advance sales made, it is almost a certainty that the court house will be packed, and that this will be the greatest treat our people have had in the way of a musical feast. The guarantors are not desiring to make this a success for their personal gain, and will not retain any funds that may result from this venture, preferring to use any surplus for some public good, as may appear. The guarantors are: C. M. Howard, G. E. Countler, Orion L. Roark, J. T. Reynolds, Jr., A. E. McCracken, Leslie Hale, Chas. W. Roark, H. L. Stum, Guy C. Morgan and W. H. Brizendine.

Wearing Prize Watch.

Mr. W. D. Blackwell is wearing a fine Howard watch, which was awarded him by Mr. D. J. Duncan, state agent of the Columbia National Life Insurance Co. in honor of his securing the largest business in May and June, of any agent in Kentucky. Mr. Blackwell won by a safe lead, and is of course very much gratified over the matter.

Mr. Clyde Sumner is home here, threatened with a siege of fever.

James Gray Drowned.

James Gray, who lives in Hopkins county was drowned in Pond river, at Buckers ford last Thursday. With several other men he had been engaged in "hogging" fish, evidently was stricken with a cramp, as he was an expert swimmer. He went down, and his friends supposed he was diving, until he failed to appear, and it was some time before his body was recovered. He is survived by his widow and three children.

WANTED—Home for 12-year-old girl. See Mrs. Mollie E. Reynolds.

The biggest week of the year will be next week, when the county school teachers assemble here for the annual institute.

Shooting at Cleaton.

About 1 o'clock last Sunday morning the town and surrounding territory to Cleaton was aroused by miscellaneous firing of guns, which continued for several minutes. The Beaver Coal Co. store was the scene of trouble, and that building was damaged considerably by the shots. Reports are that six or seven men were shot, but names and facts are being held from the public, and no arrests have been made. County officials went at once to the scene, and developments are promised shortly. There were reports that one man had died from wounds, but was not true, as all the injured are reported as getting along very well.

Chester, 17 months old son of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wall, of Hillside, died July 15 of cholera infantum, and was buried at Dovey graveyard last Thursday.

There are fewer dishonest people here than anywhere in the world, we believe. A Main street grocer one night last week left a full-sized ham hanging to a hook on the outside of his show window, and the next morning the ham was still there. Times are hard, and meat is high, but nobody was overcome by the temptation.

Mr. James Craig is here from Arkansas, mingling with friends and associates of former days.

If you like to hear catchy songs and recitations, and see pretty drills and marches, then go to the Opera House on Thursday evening July 30.

Madisonville Rounds Up Two Dozen Bootleggers.

The population of Madisonville has been considerably decreased, two dozen persons having been arrested there last Friday night and carried to Hopkinsville before U. S. Commissioner Clark on the charge of illegally selling whiskey. There were five white men and the balance were negroes, four of them being women. Madisonville has had much trouble in keeping down these violators, but the officers and citizens have fully determined to rid themselves of such characters, and there will be no let up in efforts to arrest every culprit and have punishment inflicted.

Hon. A. O. Stanley will speak at the court house here at 1.30 this afternoon, presenting his claims to the voters in his candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States Senate. Mr. Stanley has a large following in this county, and will draw a large crowd to hear him.

Muhlenberg Has 10 Per Cent. Illiterate.

Kentucky has 208,084 men and women, according to the last report of the United States Census Bureau, who cannot read and write valuable material going to waste—good people, but in a state of mental darkness. Muhlenberg County has 3103 of these unfortunates. A movement is on foot to give these people a chance like the grown people of Rowan County had in their Moonlight Schools. In that county men and women past eighty learned in a few weeks to read and write. Only twenty-three illiterates were left in that county, though there were 1152 when the Moonlight Schools began, three years ago. A number of Kentucky teachers have taken up the movement, and Moonlight Schools are being conducted in a number of counties in the State.

The Kentucky Illiteracy Commission has opened headquarters in the new State capital at Frankfort, and will gladly give information or lend assistance to any who are interested in stamping out illiteracy from Kentucky either in Moonlight Schools or by instructing individuals in their homes. The Commission is composed of Mrs. Cora Wilson Stewart, President; Dr. J. G. Crabbe, Secretary and Treasurer; Hon. Barksdale Hamlett, President H. H. Cherry, and Miss Ella Lewis. None of these men and women are to be paid for their services. Can we not lend them a hand? It is our Kentucky as well as their Kentucky. Let us wipe illiteracy out of Kentucky by 1920, when the next census is taken.
